Republican Committee in Bourbon Expels J. M. McClintock from Meetings.

Quite a sensation was caused at Paris, Ky., when the announcement was made that the Republican Committee had expelled J. M. McClintock from the Republican party.

Chairman, W. L. Yerkes, being absent, A. B. Thomason was elected pro tem Chairman, then came the lengthy and sensational resolution, submitted and adopted, alleging "that McClintock worked actively and openly in Democratic primaries year after year, though professing to be a Republican; that he had betrayed and acted with treachery toward the Republican party in collusion with Democrats, thus rendering odious the party to which he pretended to belong, etc., therefore

It is resolved by the Republican County Committee of Bourbon County that the said McClintock be and is hereby expelled from the Republican party in said county, and his presence at Republican conferences and conventions will not be tolerated. It is further resolved that Morin Moore, Henry Clay, J. W. Larkins, W. A. Thomason, A. B. Thomason and other Republicans, as they desire to associate with themselves be appointed Sergeants at Arms to take charge of all meetings of the Republican party in said county, and they are authorized to prevent said McClintock from attending same.

J. D. McClintock, is a well known politician. He conducts a fire insurance agency and news stand.

Destroying Stumps on the Farm.

An experienced farmer says: "In the fall bore an inch hole down into the center of the stump 14 or 16 inches deep. Put a couple of ounces of saltpeter into this hole, fill with water, and plug up tight. In the spring take out the plug, pour into the hole about half a gallon of kerosene oil, and light it. The stump will burn away slowly without blazing, to the ends of the roots, leaving nothing but ashes." The nitrogen in the saltpeter will penetrate into the roots during the winter, and the coal-oil will easily start the fire, and the wood itself solves into ashes. The ashes will be worth as much as a fertilizer as the saltpeter and oil will cost.

Chair of Sunday-School Pedagogy To Be Established.

A chair of Christian and Sunday-school pedagogy will, in all probability be placed in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary next session, and one of the most prominent Sunday-school workers in the country is mentioned as the professor who will fill the chair.

It is, as far as is known, the first chair of its kind ever established in any theological seminary. It is the result of the evolution of a series of lectures on Sunday-school work delivered before the students of the seminary in the last four or five years. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, the president of the seminary, conceived the idea which has met with the hearty approval of all the members of the faculty.

The chair, it is contemplated, will be supported jointly by the seminary and by the Sunday-school board of the Southern Baptist Convention, which has headquarters in Nashville. Dr. J. M. Frost, a former Kentuckian, is secretary of the Southern board which already has taken action, practically endorsing the plan. The annual meeting of the trustees will be held in May 10, at which time the plan will be laid before them for their consideration, and it is almost certain that the chair will be established. The professor who takes the chair will teach Christian and Sunday-school pedagogy about eight hours a week, and the rest of the time he will relieve Dr. Mullins, who is now overworked. Dr. Mullins teaches theology in the seminary.

In addition to taking this work the students will be given mission classes in Sunday-school which will give them practical experience. There are already several text books upon the subject, but it is not embraced in any theological training at present.

E. A. Fox, General Secretary of the Sunday School Association of Kentucky, heartily approves the plan. He said: "If the plan is adopted by the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and I have no doubt that it will be, every seminary in the country will take it up and it will produce almost a revolution in the methods of conducting Sunday-schools."

Wages Too High For Farmers.

One reason why laborers on the farm is scarce is because the great cities and railroads can afford to pay more than the farmers can. The farmers cannot pay a common, stout man $1.50 per day; so they will do without the help and reduce their acreage in cultivation. This will be a necessity, but it will produce a scarcity that will be seriously felt among the mechanics, clerks and merchants, who will have to pay higher prices for all kinds of vegetables and fruits.

When the city of Nashville fixed the price of a stout, unskilled laborer at $1.50 per day, thousands of colored people threw down the plow and rushed into the city, leaving the farmers and their wives to struggle to keep up their farms. If improved implements are used on the farms, they will greatly relieve the enforced condition.

There are now in Nashville hundreds of white families who can greatly improve their financial condition by moving to the country and teaching their daughters to do domestic work, and their boys to handle the ax, hoe and plow. The country is the place for health, comfort and freedom from care.—Southern Agriculturist

Dairy Don'ts.

Copy these don'ts, stick them up in your dairy barn and observe them next to the ten commandments. The latter will make you a better man and the former a richer one:

Don't mix water with your customers' milk.

Don't mix warm milk with that which has been cooled.

Don't mix dirt with milk. Keep the cow's udders clean.

Don't expose the milk to bad odors. It is astonishing how quickly it will assimilate them.

Don't keep the milk in the barn longer than possible. As soon as drawn it should be strained into clean vessels and put in a cool place.

Don't add anything to the milk to keep it from souring. Cooling it quickly and thoroughly is the only thing necessary.

Don't milk the cows until you have thoroughly cleaned their udders. No strainer can remove the foreign matter or odor of it after it is once dissolved in the milk.

Don't be irregular about the milking. Have a certain hour at night and in the morning, and always milk at that time.

Don't be loud or rough when handling the cows. If you have good milkers they are necessarily very nervous. For this reason it is advisable to excite them as little as possible. Many a good cow has been ruined by harsh treatment or abuse.

Don't fail to observe these rules and you will be richer at the end of the year and have a better paying herd.

Lime to Prevent Diseases on Cabbage.

Some seasons protracted rains greatly damage the cabbage crop, it being destroyed by club root and rot. All the old cabbage stubs should be removed from the plot of land where cabbage grew last year. Where club root was last year among the plants, at least fifty bushels of air-slacked lime should be applied per acre to destroy fungus germs this spring before cabbage plants are transplanted. Put seed bed on pure, clean soil, and if any of the young plants show signs of disease on the roots, put them in the fire.

He Forgot It.

When Colonel Watterson was writing his reminiscences of the "liberal Republican" convention which assembled at Cincinnati in 1872, did he forget to put Bromley's Joke in? After Horace Greeley and Gutz Brown had been declared the convention's nominees, Bromley began to "fuss" about the leaving time of the morning trains across the river in Kentucky. "What's the matter with you?" asked a friend. "Well," said Bromley, "I've seen one mammoth cave, and now I want to see the other."
